

Deluxe Cowgrain Beige Riggers Glove

Product Images

Short Description

A-grade leather riggers gloves provide the wearer with a soft feel, giving greater comfort and dexterity. Our range of riggers hand protection is colour coded, with the hem indicating the size for easy user identification. Available in a range of sizes, from small – 2XL. Choose your required size from the drop-down menu below.

Description

Our range of cow grain leather riggers gloves are the perfect solution for materials handling. Manufactured from A-grade leather, our deluxe riggers gloves offer comfort and dexterity.

Riggers gloves are commonly used during transport, positioning or installing heavy loads. They are an essential piece of kit to protect your hands from cuts and abrasions when lifting and moving rough material such as bricks and blocks, timber and building materials. These gloves are available in sizes S - 2XL with colour coded cuffs. Standards Approved for mechanical protection, they are compliant with EN420 and EN388.

To find out more about glove standards and the different levels of protection, take a look at our blog post hand protection and Australian Standards.

FEATURES:

- A-grade cow leather
- Approved to EN420 & EN388
- Available in sizes S - 2XL
- Offer mechanical protection combined with good dexterity
- Carton Qty: 120 pairs

What is a rigger and why are gloves important?

A rigger is a person who specialises in erecting and dismantling heavy equipment. Within the construction industry, riggers are responsible for many tasks. From erecting cranes, installing cable, pulleys and assembling booms and jibs for lifting. All these tasks require hand protection on site. Rigger gloves play an important role for people working within these industries.

Jaybro provides a wide range of easy and affordable hand protection - if you have any questions about which glove is most suitable for your needs, contact our friendly team now.

Additional Information

CODE	GL101-WP
U.O.M	Pair
Colour	Beige

Product Options

Size:	2XL
	S
	L
	M
	XL

